WOMAN'S TEARS.

Oh, who can gaze upon that face Still lovely as in brighter years, And view, unmoved, the flood apace Poured forth in gentle woman's tears

What soul to sympathy so dead Can mock the deep drawn sigh with snee When from his guileless heart is sped A prelude to those burning tears.

Oft, by an angry look or word, Her breast is torn with boding fears; And when no cheering voice is heard, The eye, upturned, is filled with tears.

And thro' the glittering drop there beam s A ray of heavenly light to cheer; 'Tis HOPE drinks up the limpid streams, And wipes away the falling tear.

GOING HOME.

Where are you going so fast, old man, Where are you going so fast ? There's a valley to cross, and a river to ford,

The beautiful vanished past. The road has been rugged and rough, old

To your feet it's rugged and rough, But you see a dear being with gentle eyes Has shared in your labor and sacrifice; Ah! that has been sunshine enough, old

For you and me, sunshine enough, How long since you passed o'er the hill, old man, Were there flowers and trees with their branch-

To shut out the heat of the sun, old man. The heat of the fervid sun?

And how did you cross the waves, old man, Of sorrow, the fearful waves? Did you lay your dear treasures by, one by one he might at any moment awaken? With an aching heart and "God's will be done,'

Under the wayside dust, old man, In the graves 'neath the wayside dust ?

There is labor and sorrow for all, old man, Alas! there is sorrow for all, And you, peradventure, have had your share, hair. And they've whitened your heart as well old man,

Thank God, your heart as well. You're now at the foot of the hill, old man, stant his resolve was taken. At last at the foot of the hill; The sun has gone down in a golden glow,

And the heavenly city lies just below; Go in through the pearly gate, old man, The beautiful pearly gate.

OUR IDOL.

Close the door lightly, Bridle the breath, Our little Angel Is talking with death; Gently he woos her, She wishes to stay,

Music comes floating Down from the dome, Angels are chanting The sweet welcome home; Come, stricken weeper,

Come to the bed,

Gaze on the sleeper-Our idol is dead ! Smooth out the ringlets, Close the blue eye-No wonder such beauty Was claimed in the sky; Cross the hands gently O'er the white breast So like a wild spirit Strayed from the blest;

Bear her out softly; This idol of ours, Let her grave s!umbers Be 'mid the sweet flowers.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and, will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service.

From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting place ? A roof for when the slow dark hours begin; May not the darkness hide it from my face You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other way farers at night ! Those who have gone before.

Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?

Shall I find comfort, travel-sore and weak? Of labor you shall find the sum. Will there be beds for me and all who seek? Yes, beds for all who come.

FACTS IN FARMING.

There are some things in farming that are established, namely:

That manure must be applied, not only to get up land, but to keep it up. That Cost. wet soil must be drained, either by ditching or otherwise. That subsoiling is good. That grain should be sowed earlier than it generally is; that it should be harvested earlier than it is done: that grass should be cut when in blossom; and never when ripe, unless for seed. That AND DRAWERS, pital our soil is not sufficiently worked, especially in hoed crops; that stirring the soil and keeping it well pulverized, is a par- Yarns, Hosiery, Gloves, Ribbons, Buttons, tial guard against drought. That the most advantageous grain for horses is the oat; that it improves fodder to cook or steam it. That warm shelter in winter saves fodder, and benefit stock. That the best blood is the most profitable. That there is much advantage in selecting the best seed, the earliest matured and the plumpest. That in-and-in breeding is not good in close and consecutive relationship, but must be carried on by foreign infusion of the same blood. That warm quarters and good treatment are necessary in winter to produce eggs from most hens .-That top-dressing grass lands should be done with fine, well rotted manure, applied close to the ground. That it is, in They are selling rapidly general, best to sell produce as soon as ready for market. That blackberries require rich soil; strawberries and raspberries vegetable mould-such as rotten leaves, chip manure, &c. That more lime should be used. That salt, in some cases, is good for land-also plaster, the phosphates, guano, &c. That fall ploughing is best for clay lands; that land should Near the Stone Temple, Quincy. not be ploughed wet. That young orchards should be cultivated. That compost heaps are a good institution. That clay and lime, rather than animal manure, be employed in raising fruit. That manure should be rotted before it is used. PAPER

FOOD FOR FATTENING POULTRY.

The cheapest and most advantageous food to use for fattening every description of poultry is ground oats; the whole of the grain is ground to a fine powder; nothing of any kind is taken from it. ENVELOPES When it is properly ground, one bushel of the meal will more effectually fatten poultry than a bushel and a half of any other meal. The greatest point in fattening poultry is to feed them at daybreak.

Cheapest place to buy A hog raiser selected four hogs, weighing 200 pounds each, and fed to knq or april asadvay one pair four ounces of salt daily with their other food. The other pair received Cheapest place to buy no salt. After four months, the salted hogs weighed 350 pounds each, while the others weighed only 300 pounds each.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Suprem adicial Court, next to he holden at Dedhum, in and for the County of Norfolk. ELEN F. PRATT, a resident of Quincy, in said Norfolk, respectfully libels and gives said Honorable Court to be informed, that her maiden name was Helen F. Totman; that on the eighth day of May, A. D , 1860, a Braintree, in said Norfolk, she was married to William H. Pratt; that for several months thereafter they cohabited in said Quincy; that your petitioner has always been faithful to her marriage vows, but that said William H.

wholly regardless of the same, on or about the day of Nov A. D 1860, wilfully and utterly abandoned and deserted your petitioner, and continued said desertion for more than five consecutive years, and until the present time. That your petitioner is informed and believes that during the last five years said William H. Pratt has resided in the State of California, but where he now is she knows not Wherefore your petitioner prays for a di vorce from the bonds of matrimony, from said William II. Pratt, and for such further decree, as to your Honors shall deem meet.

Your petitioner has no children HELEN F. PRATT. Quincy, Sept. 14, 1866.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Supreme Judicial Court, April Term, 1866. [Internal Revenue Stamp]
On the foregoing libel, it is ordered, that the libellant give notice to the said William H. Pratt to appear before the Justices of this Court next to be holden at Dedham, within and for County of Norfolk, on the third TUES-DAY of February next, by publishing an at-tested copy of said libel and of this order thereon once a week, three weeks successively in the Quincy Patriot, a newspaper printed in Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, the last publication to be ninety days at least, before aid third THESDAY of February next; that he may then and there show cause why the prayer of said libel should not be granted.

Sept. 14, 1866. By the Court, GEO. C. WILDE, Clerk. A true copy of said libel and of the order Attest. GEO. C. WILDE, Clerk.

J. M. THRESHER, DENTIST.

Would respect thy inform his friends and patters, that le Has Removed to 132 Court Street,

(Only 2 doors from his former place.) Where he will continue the practice of his profession as a Dentist inall its branches. All work performed in his office is warranted to be FIRST CLASS, and all improvements in the science of Dentistry will be placed at the command of his customers without delay. Nitrous Oxyd, or Laughing Gas and Ether,

N. B.—A journeyman formerly employed by me, and recently discharged, has issued a circular giving the impression, to persons not knowing the facts, that he was a former partner of mine. This is to give notice that such was not the case, and that I shall try by all konorable means to retain the patronage justly belonging to me, and use no dishonorable means to deprive others of their rights. Therefore all work which has been commenced at my office, I shall expect will be completed there, regardless of the solici-

AUTUMN SUNSHINE.

Mild as the glances of angel eyes, Soft as the kisses of first-born love; Down through the haze of these Autumn skies, Comes the glad sunshine from realms above.

Beautiful pictures it sketcheth now, Touched with the glowing bues of old; Painting the valley and mountain's brow, Over with purple and red and gold.

Whispers of beauty the spirit fills, Tales of a land that fadeth never; Sunshine that gildeth the beautiful hills, Just over the bank of a crystal river.

Beautiful rest for the weary soul, Ea:th had no beauty akin to this, Anthems of gladness forever roll Over those halcyon plains of bliss.

Down the steeps of life's western hill, Beautiful sunshine of hope and light; Every shadow and hope dispel, Lift my spirit from realms of night,

Soft as the beams of the Autumn sun. Sweet as the death of the summer flowers; Gather thy jewels one by one, Take my soul to those fadeless bowers.

Progressive agriculture builds barns and puts gutters on them, builds stables for cattle and raises roots to feed them. It grafts wild apple trees by the meadow with pippins or greenings -it sets out new orchards and takes care of the old ones. It drains low lands, cuts down bushes, buys a mower, house tools and wagons, keeps good fences and practices soiling. It makes hens lay, chickens live, and prevents swine from rooting meadows. Progressive agriculture keeps on hand plenty of dry fuel, and brings the oven wood for the women. It ploughs deeply, sows plentifully, harrows They are selling rapidly evenly, and prays for the blessing of heaven. Finally, it subscribes for good religious, agricultural and family journals and pays for them in advance, advocates free schools, and always takes something, besides the family to the county fair .- N

following hints for the month are from the Horticulturist, As soon as the leaves drop, prune out door grape vines. Hyacinths for early blooming in the house, should be potted this month. Strawberry Beds should be carefully eradicated. If not already mulched do not delay attending to it.

Grape cuttings made as soon as the foliage of the vine drops, and planted out in well prepared land will start early in the spring, and make stronger and better ENVELOPES growth than when made during winter and planted out in the spring.

Seedling grape vines, magnolias, ornamental shrubs, &c., should be protected the first winter. Many a plant is destroyed the first winter, that had it been then Chespest place to buy protected, would have afterwards proved Plants, however, that are grown in pots in the house nearly always produce seed, hence such plants are advised for operating on.

HAIR. It is a very valuable manure. By those who have used it it is estimated as far more valuable than stable manure. The sweepings of the barber's shops of New York have long been used to a great advantage, and there is no substance saved upon the farm that pays so well. It is all worth saving. Mix it up in a compost and use it on the celery bed, Linen & Paper Collars, & Cuffs, if you have one, or on any other garden erop. Many consider it worth from six to ten cents a pound for manure. It decomposes slowly, but put it on and you will hear from it .- Ploughman.

TO GEORGE PEABODY,

I like to hear of thee, old man, As following out the Christian plan;

What countless prayers for thee ascend, Thou rich man's teacher, poor man's friend; The loved of nations-either side Th' Atlantic bails thy name with pride.

The warrior's foot is heard with dread, Where desolation marks its trend: And while the cong'rer home we hail, Our joys are check'd by mourners' wail.

But thou, where'er thy footsteps fall, A bounty bring'st, a blessing call; And hope revives where want and care, Had led their victims to despair.

Long may you live to bless mankind And win the prize by heav'n design'd; For those who faithful to their trust, Are counted with the good and just.

Or Lights and Shadows of the Great Rebellion. There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embod-ied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and, will, if preserved, convey to suc-ceeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the lar, one stamp. Treatise on all diseases, 20 cts. THE LATEST FASHIONS. Since the invention and successful introduction of the celebrated Duplex Elliptic (or double) spring Skirt by Mr. J. W. Bradley of N.

have given up the idea of discarding the fashion of wearing hoop skirts on account of the peculiar and graceful manner in which the Duplex Skirts adapt themselves to every exigency and emergency.

So generally acceptable have these Skirts become that the ladies regard them as a special favorite in view of the superior flexibility, lightness and durability comblages, for the promenade or house dress.

Any lady after wearing one of these

Skirts will never afterwards willingly dis-stiff, unyielding and bungling style which has ever characterized them, whereas the double spring hoop or the Duplex Elliptic, will be found free from these objections.

Notwithstanding the ability of the manufacturers, Messrs. Wests', Bradley & Cary to turn out over six thousand Skirts per day from their large manufactories in

New York, they feel obliged to request

all merchants ordering the Duplex Elliptic Skirts, to send their orders a few days

Selected Poetry.

"MOUTHS TO FEED."

In field and workshop sounds the song I rom labor's brave and manly throng; Tis mountain-echoed far and near; Tis joy to every honest ear. Each snvil-stroke, if we but heed, Chimes with the burden : "Mouths to feed."

A cry that nerves the weary hand; A mighty rhythm proud and grand; A song that wakes the sleeping brain; A warning note in joy and pain. Tho' heart may faint and feet may bleed, No spur like this one: " Mouths to feed."

A song for you, a song for me, Of low and pleading meledy; Then up! and toil with smiling face; To fail or falter is disgrace. The kindly word, the noble deed, Make sweet the burden: " Mouths to feed."

SYMPTOMS.

The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterwards thick Oven and Ash Doors, Barn Door Rolls, and adhesive, may ensue.

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the General Fire Insurance Agent. voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place.

Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a slick or slimy mucous, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place, the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lose no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symptoms. Write to our Laboratory for our pamphlet describing fully all symptoms; it will be sent FREE to any address. Also directions where to procure the medi-

IF YOU SHOULD E'ER GET MARRIED.

If you should e'er get married, John, I'll tell you what to do-Go get a little tenement, Just big enough for two! And one spare room for company, And one spare bed within it-

And if you'd begin love's life aright,

You'd better thus begin it. In furniture be moderate, John. And let the stuffed chairs wait; One looking-glass will do for both Yourself and loving mate. And Brussels, too, and other things, Which make a fine appearance, If you can better afford it, they Will better look a year hence. Some think they must have pictures, John, Superb and costly too; Your wife will be a picture, John, Let that suffice for you. Remember how the wise man said A tent, and love within it, Is better than a splendid house, With bickerings every minute.

And one word as to cooking, John, Your wife can do that best: For love, to make the biscuit rise, Is better far than yeast. No matter if each day you don't Bring turkey to your table, 'Twill better relish by and by, When you are better able.

For all you buy pay money, John, Money that very day-If you would have your life run smooth, There is no better way. A note to pay is an ugly thing, (If thing you choose to call it.) When it hangs o'er a man who has No money in his wallet. And now when you are married, John, Don't try to ape the rich; It took them many a toilsome year To gain their envied niche. And if you gain the summit, John, Look well to your beginning, And then will all you win repay The care and toil of winning.

Symptoms of Dyspepsia — A sense of fullness, tight-less, and weight in the stomach, together with flatu-ency, acidity, sour, offensive belehing of wind, water-brash, and vomiting, and a great deal of what a person calls an all-gone feeling at the pit of the stomach; freslime on it, it prevents the satomach gets a thick coat dime on it, it prevents the gastric juice from flowing, I digestion ceases. Schenck's Scawced Touc dis-ces this mucus or slime, and restores the stomach to natural condition ack's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry Schenck's Mandrake Pills are also required to carry off this morbid matter. Two-thirds of the cases of Consumption are caused from this diseased state of the stomach; the liver becoming torpid, it ceases to throw out bile, and in a short time the whole system is deranged. The mucous membrane of the bronchial tubes sympathizes with the other organs, and before the patient is aware of it, he or she has Bronchial or Pulmoconsumption. enck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup cannot act freely through the blood when the system is in this locked-up condition, without the aid of the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills The Liver has all the venous blood to strain, and when it gets in a morbid condition, blood and bile run through the system mixed, and the whole body becomes so low and the blood so thick, it can hardly run through the veins. In a majority of cases hemorrhages occur from this thick condition of the blood. The Mandrake Pills act on the Liver similar to calomel, or they do what that does—it unlocks the gall bladders, starts the bile, and the blood begins to circulate naturally through the veins, and the hemorrhages cease. If, when persons

Farmers' Department.

WORK FOR NOVEMBER.

With this month the farmer's work in the fields will close, and Jack Frost will lay claim to the earth, and the wind and snows of winter will drift over the meadows which were lately so pleasant, and where the birds sang so sweetly, and the children enjoyed so much to romp.

The thick falling early dew drops, and the sharp frosts that we have already experienced, should bestir us to see that ali things are in order for the winter that is upon us, and we can think of nothing more important at this time than to call attention to the BUILDINGS-which should be looked carefully over, and all loose boards nailed tight, and all cracks properly stopped.

IMPLEMENTS AND TOOLS—should be BOOTS, well oiled, painted and put away in a snug dry place.

MANURE-of all kinds should be scraped together in the barn yard, and . carted to the meadows or wheat fields, and applied as a top dressing. The finest manure should be used for the wheat fields. It will protect the roots of grass and wheat from the winter's frost.

FATTENING ANIMALS—should receive extra care this month. See that they are kept warm and comfortable, and that they are fed regularly. This is of great importance, and applies to all animals .-Water should not be forgotten, as they require it now constantly. Let all stock be well taken care of this month, and get a good start for winter.

POULTRY—should have a suitable hen- THICK BOOTS! nery to roost in. Do not let them perch in the trees, or on the fence, but provide them with good compartments, and they will reward you with plenty of fresh eggs during the winter. Spring chickens that have commenced laying should be supplied with lime, sand, broken shells, and L-A-D-I-E-S-', M-I-S-S-E-Sonce a week some refuse meat, and with proper management will continue laying through the winter.

CALVES-will thrive faster by having n little meal fed to them now, and the quantity may be increased during the winter to one or two quarts a day, which idly. Then the Colts-will relish a little grain, and some cut feed. Let the boys handle them carefully, or rather pet them a little every day during the winter, and get them broken in by degrees, ready for the spring work. Nothing is lost by the gentle care of all our farm animals.

LEAVES-should be gathered from the woods or road side, and have them spread over the manure heap in the barn yard, or if short of straw, they can be used to advantage for littering the stable or hog Ladies' Serge Button BOOTS pen.-American Farmer.

APPLES AS FOOD.

The importance of apples as food, has not hitherto been sufficiently estimated or understood. Besides contributing a large proportion of sugar, mucilage, and other nutritive compounds in the form of food, they contain such a fine combination of vegetable acids, extractive substances, and aromatic principles, with the nutritive matter, as to act powerfully in the capacity of refrigerants, tonics and antisepties, and when freely used, at the season of ripeness, by rural laborors and others, they prevent debility, strengthen digestion, correct the putrifactive tendencies of nitrogenious food, avert scurvy, and probably maintain and strengthen the power of productive labor.—Liebig.

Many persons owning a harness do not wash or oil it once a year, consequently As we have extra advantages the leather becomes hard, dry and rotten. A harness for service needs about two in securing our BOOTS AND applications of neat's foot oil a year, but it should be washed as often as once in SHOES through some of the three or four weeks in strong Castile soap suds, and kept in a dry place away Largest Houses, and also direct from the dust. from the Manufacturers, we feel with vast capacities for usefulness, instead the days of its construction has been perverted to the subordinate purpose of paying dividends to stockholders.

The transportation of merchandize from the granaries of the West to the harbors of Massachusetts, is of no account whatever in the views of the managers of the dividend for the stockholders; and if present rates. local freight would pay that dividend, they would interpose a barrier to any through freight at all.

Not an additional freight ear for through freight has been added for twenty years. Yet the New York Central Railroad, which is a continuation of the Western, Victor," enquireswithin ten years has increased its business four hundred per cent.

The Western Railroad prefers to do a small business at an enormous profit, rather than a large business at a sufficiently remunerative profit.

To the citizen who wishes an answer to the inquiry why it is that the business of the West does not centre in larger degree at the harbors of Massachusetts, or why flour and other Western products are so high in our markets, we commend Mr. Quincy's answer to these queries. He proves that a very large reduction in the prices of fares and freights is demanded by the public interests. He proves, also, that it is perfectly practicable so to reduce them and realize

No. 2. DR. SCHENCK'S

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floor of No.35 HANOVER STREET, Roston, where he will be professionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Cosumption, or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirement the charge is five dollars. Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines, namely, his Pulmonic Syrup, Scawced Tonic, and Mandrake Pills, without the use of the Respiremeter; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what part also; whether it is Tubercilous, Pulmonic Syrup, Scawced Tonic, and Amorth and Carle Mandray, Brouchial, or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and catarrh, or from Liver complaint. NEW OFFICE. it is merely an incomparate.

For the Patriot. GATHER THE FRAGMENTS:

Oh "Gather the fragments up;" he said Who walked in humble guise; There came the full supplies.

Oh "Gather the fragments up;" and blest, Were the hungry souls that hour. For into their hearts came a dream of rest, Like an all-embracing power.

Oh "Gather the fragments #p"-and hark! For the dumb, are speaking now, And lo! the truth like a meteor spark. Hath flashed o'er many a brow.

Oh "Gather the fragments up" - he spoke, And they thrilled at his every word, For the light through all their darkness broke,

'Twas the "Man of God "they heard. Especially adapted to the coming season Oh "Gather the fragments up" said he, And bright, from the broken heart, There came like blossoms from faitest tree,

A PRAYER FOR AUTUMN.

So, like the corn, moon-ripened last, Would I, when tired and gray, O, golden memories ripen fast, And ripening pass away.

In an old night so let me die; A slow wind out of doors; A waning moon low in the sky A vapor on the moors.

A fire just dying in the gloom; Earth haunted all with dreams; A sound of waters in the room; A mirror's meony gleams;

And near me, in the sinking night, More thoughts than move in me, Forgiving wrong, and loving right, And waiting till I see.

> Autumn winds are sadly sighing; Stirring evermore, Golden memories of the Summer,

That has gone before. Autumn leaves are gently falling With a movement slow; And the music of their rustling, Pianissimo.

Now there comes a quicker measure, Laughing, gay, and light; Down the playing leaves are dancing, In a merry flight.

Then the fancy of their falling Musically sad; As if grace notes of the forest Pensive droppings had. Firmer bass the winds then making To the treble sweet.

Fuller chordings are created, When the voices meet; With the echo of their greeting Delicately low; As if leaf hearts and the wind hearts

Did each other know. Cometh now a sudden storm-gust, With its mighty breath, Bearing hosts of flutt'ring victims Downward unto death.

But the storm-king, in departing, Moans a grieved good-by, As though touched to see his stricken Thus so lowly lie.

Then again the former fancies Are repeated o'er; Leaves are falling-cruel breezes Trifling evermore. Spirits of the air are holding Soothing converse low

With the fairies of the forest,

As they gently go. Whispering of the leaves' awaking In the gala Spring, When the guardians of the woodland Shall new beauty bring.

As they pass along; Dropping-dropping to be chrystal'd By the night-winds song. Though the little feet are moving At a graver pace,

Tiny tears on dead leaves dropping,

Yet they cannot quite abondon All their elfin grace. Faries now forsake their leaf-loves, All for burial clad;

But their voices are, in parting, Tremulous and sad Now the last lone leaves are falling, Scarcely with a sound; Falling-falling-falling slowly-Softly-to-the-ground.

For the Patriot DON'T KISS THE GIRLS.

BY F. M. ADLINGTON-WEYMOUTH.

Don't kiss the girls, my boys; don't kiss the You'll datch a longing very hard to cure; Don't risk your hand to touch their witching

Those cunning traps they set so slick and sure.

Don't look into their eyes-black, brown or blue-

You'll find them magazines of glit'ring darts, That c'er you are aware may pierce you thro', Vests, shirts and muscles, to your very

One touch and your your destiny have faced; One ardent look into their wicked eyes; One kiss and you their fetters have embraced, No matter whether you are daft or wise.

They've got you now and struggle as you may, You can't get clear, and that they know full Fall and Winter!

For one kiss more you'll give yourself away; For one kiss more your birthright you would

Don't kiss the girls, my boys; whoever sips Their cherry cordial, risks his all for life; There is a witchery in woman's lips, You should not taste till ready for a wife.

Farmers Department.

HIGH CULTIVATION.

The Maine Farmer, alluding to the subject of "high cultivation" so much talked of and written about, says that there is much more talk than improvement. A man looks over his farm, of Consisting of many acres, and finds the whole needs aid, but not being able, at once, to render it to all portions, makes no particular effort to improve any part. The right way-right because only practicable-- is to commence with a few acres at a time. Get these in good heart the first year, and the increased product from them will aid in experimenting on another section the succeeding year. In this way the farm will soon become renovated, and, SEWING MACHINES! ted Wringers. properly cared for, will not run down the public that he has been appointed Agent the public that he has been appointed Agent again as "long as grass grows and water

AN INCREDIBLE HAY CROP. The interest to give him a call. New England Farmer is responsible for the report that an acre and a half of poor land in St. Johnsbury, Vt., produced thirteen and a half tons of fine timothy hay this season. The land was plowed in August 1865, top-dressed with forty-five loads of yard manure, well harrowed and sown with three pecks of timothy seed, and fifteen pounds of clover seed, and again harrowed and rolled, it yielded eight tons of timothy the last week in June, and five and a half tons more the first week in PANTS & VESTS, September. As much Italian rye grass has been grown to the acre in England by the aid of weekly libations of sewage or liquid manure. But any thing like such a crop of timothy has never before been reported by the agricultural press .-American Farmer.

GYPSUM IN STABLES. The Germantown Telegraph says, "Gypsum should be sprinkled daily over the floors and tieups, to absorb the ammonia of the urine. GLOVES with Fur Tips. The strong odor observable on entering Enamelled COLLARS, all grades the stable on a morning, arises from the presence of ammonia, one of the most valuable products of stable manure, when properly economized. Gypsum or lime, either slacked or caustic, should also be sprinkled over the bottoths of cellars in the spring. This will tend to purify the atmosphere and prevent many deleterious effects resulting from the presence of miasma. After a few days it should be removed, and a fresh supply substituted in its place."

Bones. The simplest way to prepare bones for manure is to break them into small pieces with a hammer, and mix with an equal quantity of earth or ashes, when they will decompose.

Anecdotes.

An old fellow who took part in the great rebellion, was one day boasting in the village tavern to a crowd of admiring listeners, of his many bloody exploits, when he was interrupted by the question: "I say, old Joe, how many rebs did you kill during the war?"

"How many did I kill, sir? how many rebs did I kill? Well, I don't know just 'xactly how many; but I know this much -I killed as many of them as they did of

BLIES, OPERAS, CARRIAGES, RAILROAD CARS most successful deep well pump on this continent, and the only one that will do what it is advertised a single day will never afterwards willingly dis-pense with their use. For Children, Misses und Young Ladies they are superior to all others. They will not bend or break like the Single Spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c. The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fash a Magazines as the Standard Skirt of the Fashionable World. To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in Cvinoline, viz: Superior quality, perfect manifacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durabi ity, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. DR. SCHENCK'S NEW OFFICE.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, has opened an office on second floar of No. 35 Handver Street. Boston, where he will be pracessionally every WEDNESDAY, from 9 to 3. Every person complaining with Consumption, or any disease leading to it, is invited to call on him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the charge is five dollars. Dr. Schenck can explain to patients very correctly the stage of their disease, and how to use his medicines, namely, his Philmonio Syrap, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandake Pills, without the use of the Respirometer; but by it he can tell exactly how far the lungs are gone, and what parti also; whether it is Tubergulous, Pulmonary, Bronchial, or Dyspeptic Consumption, or whether it is merely an ulcerated throat and caterrh, or from liver complaint.

His medicines have full directions, so any one can take them without seeing him; but if they live near by, and are well enough, it is best to see him. All three of his medicines are required in nearly every case of lung disease, for it is impossible to cure Consumption unless the stomach and liver are kept in perfect order. To get lungs in a healing candition the stomach must be cleansed, and an appetite for good rich food created, so as to make good blood, before the lungs will step, and the expectoration become free and easy.

He keeps a full supply of medicines at his rooms, which can be had at all times.

POULTRY SHOW AT WORCESTER

ty Poultry Club" was held on the 6th and 7th instants. It was the largest and best show of the kind ever seen in this State. There were 242 coops comprising 920 birds of the various species and varieties, we were informed,-102 more coops than at the last previous show. Of barn-door fowls, the Brahmas largely predominated, there being fifty-six coops of them, containing 6 specimens apiece on an aver-

H. G. White of Framingham, made the largest show among the various contributors, comprising twenty-nine coops and fifteen varieties and different species, ten coops of which were splendid Brahmas. Among Mr. White's were game cocks, bred from the Earl Derby variety; also, a large number of beautiful Fantail pigeons of the Leaden hall type of London, which attracted much attention. Mr. White exhibited also three Carolina wood ducks, and a number of Black Cayugas, Fall and Winter! with the Aylesbury and Rouen. So large a show of the rarest and choicest varieties and species of poultry by one farmer, is

C. H. Hero of Milford, exhibited the FROM NEW YORK second largest and best variety. John S. Ives of Salem, showed in one coop, twelve Brahma pullets and a cock, for which he was offered $75 by a celebrated poultryfancier. Gray Dorkings, with Golden Sebright, Silver Bantams, and Dominique chickens, were exhibited by Mr. White. Black Bantams by Mr. Ives who also ex- FALL AND WINTER hibited the Leghorn variety. The dis-play of Spanish, Leghorns, Polands, Bolton Grays, in goodly numbers and of rare quality was attractive. There was a good show of ducks and geese, with seven entries of turkies, comprising the Bronze. Among the pigeons, were, be- Consisting of sides the Fantails, pairs of pouters, trumpeters, starlings, dragons, moreheads and jacobins.—Of quadrupeds, there were rabbits and Italian grayhounds; hence the whining and yelping which added to the poultry jargon. As premiums at this show were offered only for poultry a year old and under, none but the young birds could be entered under the rules.

ACTIVE MANURE.

One of the most active manures, and readily within the reach of most farmers; is a mixture of leached ashes, plaster, and night-soil mixed with fine soil. Let them be thoroughy worked over on a smooth spot, and allowed to stand a week before using, working it over every other day, and you have a most valuable manure at a triffing cost of time. A handful of this mixture in a hill is excellent to give corn a start. Potatoes and garden vegetables generally feel it very quiek. Hen manure is an excellent ingredient in such manures, but it should be well slacked with water before mixing with other substances. -Maine Farmer.

Duplex Elliptic (OR DOUBLE SPRING)

Young Ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the Single Spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary Shirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The Hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom ords are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashin Magazines as the Standard Skirt of the Fashionable World.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in Crinoline, viz: Superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic or Double Spring kirt, and be sure you get the genuine article. CAUTION.—To guard against IMPOSITION be particular to NOTICE that skirts offered as be particular to NOTICE that skirts offered as DUPLEX, have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—none others are genuine. Also, Notice that every Hoop will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other Skirt.

SYMPTOMS.

The symptoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, that they have frequent attacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of temperature. In this condition the nose may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and acrid, afterwards thick and adhesive, may ensue. As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell is lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is, that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a slick or slimy mucous, which has fallen from the head during the night. When this takes place. the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lose no time or 103 & 105 Milk Street, Boston, will receive in arresting it.

THE LQNG-AGO.

On that deep retiring shore Frequent pearls of heauty lie, Where the passion waves of yore Fiercely beat and mounted high; Sorrows that are sorrows still Lose their bitter taste of woe;

Tombs where lonely love repines, Ghastly tenements of tears, Wear the look of happy shrines Through the golden mist of years; Death, to those who trust in good, Vindicates his hardest blow; O! we would not if we could,

Wake the sleep of long-ago. . Though the doom of swift decay Shocks the soul where life is strong. Though for frailer hearts the day Lingers sad and overlong; Still the weight will find a leaven,

Still the spoiler's hand is slow. While the future has its Heaven, And the past its long-ago.
